

2009 Napa Valley White Wine

The next chapter from pureCru Napa Valley!

A Napa Valley blend that with precise balance is intended for today, but as many reds do, this white will age very well into the next decade. Although aged in French oak barrels for nearly a year, this wine is not oaky, only evolved and developed.

Appellation:	Napa Valley
Composition:	52% Sauvignon Blanc, 48% Semillon
Winemaking:	Both barrel and tank fermentation were used with NO malolactic fermentation.
Production:	360 cases

Celebrating 30 years of winemaking, Mitch Cosentino launches pureCru Napa Valley, a small producer of wines designed to accompany fine world cuisine.

pureCru Napa Valley began as what Cosentino refers to as "a winemakers wine project," and has evolved into a venture that takes Cosentino back to his roots.

"I had been reminiscing about a small, hands-on entity where I could do it all myself again, like I did in the beginning."
